Please note:

DVD CCA licensing procedures are currently undergoing transition from interim to final CSS License.

Dear Potential Licensee,

We received your inquiry with regard to the license activities of DVD Copy Control Association and obtaining a Content Scramble System ("CSS") License.

In an effort to clarify our activities, and to proceed with granting of license of CSS and disclosure of technical information relating to CSS, we would like to offer an explanation of the procedures, as follows:

STEP 1 (CSS Application Form)

To begin the process, please find attached an "Inquiry Sheet" for your completion (all three pages) and return to DVD CCA with the requested information. Following the Inquiry Sheet, we've also included a chart, which generally outlines the licensing procedures below.

Next, you may download a copy of the CSS License Agreement for review purposes. A copy of the Procedural Specifications, is not expected to be available until about August 2000. Also, the CSS Associate License Agreements, for "Assemblers" and "Resellers", are not yet available. Please continue to check the DVD CCA website for related update and availability information.

STEP 2 (CSS Licensing)

If you determine that your company would like to start to manufacture and sell DVD related products using CSS, or you have an immediate plan to start to manufacture and sell DVD related products using CSS technology, a CSS License is required for manufacture and sale of such products.

DVD CCA must collect an annual membership fee of 5,000US* dollars (*subject to periodic review and revision) for each category of license selected, based upon Membership Category selection. Please be aware that the CSS license is royalty free (tax treaty withholding is not applicable). The membership fees are used to offset the costs associated with DVD CCA's administration of CSS as a licensing activity. Additionally, upon receipt of full payment due, the Licensee may further receive additional and specific Technical Specification (Highly Confidential Information), dependant upon the category of license selected, specifically limited that category

[Note: For non-US applicants wishing to expedite an order via wire transfer, please be aware of your financial institution's related wire transfer fees and/or any intermediary financial institution involved, which will likely be drawn against wire transfer amount - our bank must be in receipt of the full amount due. Accordingly, it is the obligation of all Licensee applicants to cover all transactional expenses that they incur with their own financial institutions, whereas it is our obligation to cover our own bank's fees.]
